Mr. George W. Forbes,

Dear Sir:-

I have received your letter of inquiry and can give you very little information.

Gov. Bell's history of Exeter is the only local history we have and there is no historical society in Exeter at present.

I have consulted Mr. William Perry, who is eighty five years old, and he remembers a Paul who was in Dartmouth College when he was there but not in his class. Mr. Perry knew <sup>him</sup> by sight only.

He was Thomas Paul who was born in Boston, graduated from Dartmouth in 1841 and died in Providence in 1885.

Judge Davis Cross of Manchester, N. H.

was a class mate and may remember him.

I have asked two other aged people about the family but they can give me no information.

Very truly yours-

Carrie W. Byington.
Librarian.
